NEW YORK PITCHER
WINS IN 14 INNINGS

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
NEW YORK, May 22.—Thormahlen, New York's sensational young pitcher, won a 14-inning duel with Cicotte, the Chicago veteran. Thormahlen has not been scored on in 34 successive innings. Cicotte held the Yankees to four hits for 14 innings, when singles by Baker, Pratt and Pipp produced the winning rally. Score:

CHICAGO WINS BY LUCK IN EIGHTH

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
CHICAGO, May 22.—(National)—A batting rally in the eighth enabled Chicago to win. Flack singled, was sacrificed to second by Hollocher, and after Mann filed out, scored on Kilduff's single. Paskert then walked and Deal followed with a single scoring Kilduff.

Brooklyn scored their lone run when Flack fumbled Daubert's single and allowed Olson to count from second. Score:

What's the worth of one baby's life?

The time has come when you must put a money value on it.

So much Red Cross money available, so many babies restored.

A little less Red Cross money available, so many babies lost by default.

It's as plain as that.

A great net of mercy drawn through an ocean of unspeakable pain.

THE PRICE OF A BABY'S LIFE

What's the worth of one baby's life?

The time has come when you must put a money value on it.

So much Red Cross money available, so many babies restored.

A little less Red Cross money available, so many babies lost by default.

It's as plain as that.

When you made that first Red Cross investment you had a fairly clear idea that there was plenty to be done and that the Red Cross would make every dollar of money and every minute of time count.

But have you now a clear picture of what price somebody will have to pay for one delayed dollar or a hundred dollars withheld?

You can't read a casual page of Red Cross reports from anywhere "over there" without endangering the coolness of your decision as to "how much."

Suppose you had found "another use" for your Red Cross money a while ago and a corresponding part of the piece of work described below went undone:

"Gas bombs were being used. 750 children suddenly thrust upon the Prefect's hand. Twenty-one of the children were infants under one year and the remainder were under eight years—herded together in an old barracks, dirty, practically unfurnished, and with no sanitary appliances. Sick children were crowded in with the well and skin disease and vermin abounded. Within two days the Red Cross workers had cleaned all the children, provided new barracks, provided medical care and nurses for all the babies, secured suitable food and classified all the refugees to prevent the separation of members of the same family."

Was that money well spent?

Were those babies worth while? Well, how MUCH were they worth, per baby?

They are the future of France—the hope and pledge of civilization. We are in their debt for what their fathers and mothers have paid already—in hunger, in cold, in mutilation, in slavery.

We shall pay up, too. Your FIRST installment was there in time—NOW how much?
